JSfirm.com Partners with Native American Aviation Association to Expand Job Distribution Network

Roanoke, Texas (April 15, 2024) - JSfirm.com is proud to announce a transformative new partnership with the Native American Aviation Association (NAAA), expanding its Job Distribution Network (JDN). This partnership will allow members of NAAA to directly explore aviation career opportunities right on NAAA's website.

The Native American Aviation Association is dedicated to delivering industry-leading aviation education to Tribal communities. Through thoughtfully designed, multi-phase programs, NAAA integrates foundational learning, skill development, hands-on training, and mentorship to create a comprehensive pathway for success.

"We're excited to partner with the Native American Aviation Association to provide valuable resources and support for Native American aviation professionals. This collaboration allows us to continue to extend our reach across multiple associations while providing free job search tools directly on their websites." said Laurie Elliott, Partnership Manager, JSfirm.com.

Kevin Allis, Executive Director of NAAA said, "Our partnership with JSfirm.com marks a powerful stride in our mission to elevate Native talent in aviation. By delivering real-time career opportunities directly to our community, we're unlocking doors that have too often been closed. Together, JSfirm and NAAA are building meaningful pathways for Native youth and professionals to rise, lead, and thrive in an industry where their voices and vision have long been missing."

Aviation schools, organizations, or associations interested in becoming a JSfirm.com Job Distribution Partner can reach out to Laurie Elliott directly at laurie@jsfirm.com.
