University of Nebraska-Omaha Partners with JSfirm.com

Roanoke, Texas (October 2, 2024) - The University of Nebraska-Omaha becomes the newest Job Distribution Network Partner with JSfirm.com.

The University of Omaha-Nebraska has a vision to lead collegiate aviation in ways that measurably enhance the lives of students and others they serve through instructional, research, and service programs. The Aviation Institute was founded with support from Omaha's civic and business leaders. "At the University of Nebraska-Omaha, we understand the importance of providing our students with tools to succeed, especially in their careers, and this partnership is representative of that."

Laurie Elliott, Partnership Manager for JSfirm.com mentioned, "The University of Nebraska-Omaha is a truly critical addition. We are excited to share open job opportunities with the students preparing to emerge into the aviation industry."
